

Aug 2011

One positive aspect of an otherwise indifferent summer was the presence of at least 7 Wall Browns during the last few days of July and the first few of August - whilst this hardly qualifies for one of the great natural wonders of the world it is noteworthy for a butterfly that is currently very scarce locally. There was a small influx of 3 Painted Ladies and at least 22 Red Admirals on the 25th,