Welcome warmth after a week of dismal north-easterlies and barely a glimpse of the sun induced the appearance of a Comma in the Haven and a Small Tortoiseshell at the Observatory on the 7th and 3 Small Tortoiseshells the next day. 11 Small Tortoiseshells and 4 Peacocks were seen on the 21st - the first really warm day of spring - and a Comma was found on the 23rd.
